PR was program chair and introduced Kristy Lawson (who is a member) and is director of the Sexual Assault Victims Advocacy Center.

The center grew from the Rome center in 2008 and became independent in 2012. It serves Dade, Walker and Catoosa counties. Medical exams are given in the office. They work with police and courts and go with victims to court. They mainly serve adults and some 17 and 18 year olds. Their push is community and school education. They will be adding more human trafficking support. 90% of rape victims know the assailant. Human trafficking is modern day slavery and it is not just sex trafficked. Call them if you suspect sexual violence or human trafficking at 706-419-8775
