Stewart as program chair introduced Jennie Landreth from Choices in Chattanooga.

Was AAA Women Services until a few years ago but changed names to better reflect they help couples make choices in pregnancies and help them do well with choices.

Emphasis is to save mother and baby with now emphasis on developing family. They work to develop family, including father, and have a family building. They offer pregnancy test, STD and STI testing and also treatment after abortion services. Parents can earn baby bucks attending session, being on time etc. that re used to get items from baby boutique. They provide adoption information. They want people to have full information on choices.
